About the Conference

The Leadership Centre announces the 3rd Annual International Leadership Conference under the theme

“The Millennium Development Goals: the Role of Leadership”

While the developed countries enjoy a high standard of living, the developing countries continue to lag behind and are characterized by illiteracy, poverty and disease.

The United Nations (UN) in its effort to improve the living standards of people in the world declared the Millennium Development Goals consisting of targets that must be met by all countries by the year 2025. Many countries have evolved policies to achieve this and some progress has been done. However a lot is still to be done. For many African countries, these goals are illusive. A key factor in achieving these goals is leadership. Without visionary and committed leadership, many countries will remain poor.

This conference is intended to address the role leadership plays in changing the fortunes of the billions of the poor.
